

Jack Sun's Bio

Jack Sun was born in China in 1978 and immigrated to America 2004. He has received his graduate degrees in Master of Science in Christian Counseling from Cairn University and this fall will receive his Master of Philosophy in Organizational Dynamics (with concentration on Business Consulting and Executive Coaching) from the University of Pennsylvania. Jack is fluent in both Chinese and English. He is married to Cherie Benner, also a graduate from Cairn University. They have been married for almost 14 years and have two sons. After Jack graduated from Cairn University he worked at UPS as a sales representative for one and half years. Jack and his family moved to China in 2008 and taught at Renmin University for almost 4 years. There, Jack had the opportunity to develop his counseling expertise in the context of those college students who were preparing to study overseas. Due to children's education needs, Jack and his family moved back to Philadelphia in 2012 and worked at Wharton Executive Education as a program coordinator and Chinese liaison for the past 4 years. While pursuing his Master of Philosophy degree in Organizational Dynamics at the University of Pennsylvania, he has had the opportunity to coach young entrepreneurs from China. Jack has also taken many Executive MBA classes at the Wharton School during the years 2012-2016. Jack has recently started Sun's Consulting LLC to devote his time to coaching, consulting, training, teaching and intercultural coordinating services, such as, PR and interpreting services. After the publishing of his first book Seeking the Giant at the beginning of 2016, he is currently working on his second book Becoming the Giant, which is about Life Story Engineering (A term coined by Jack Sun).

Jack's rich international living and working experience has made him a natural bridge for internationals working between Chinese and American culture. His working background at Wharton Executive Education has enriched his business knowledge and acumen. His educational background has prepared him well to be an effective consultant and coach for international intercultural business challenges.